SO A "REFORMED BOOKMAKER TELLS SENATE COMMITTEE.

Bacing Men and Breeders Say Owners Shouldn't He Liable for Gambling That They Don't Know About - Canon Chase and Other Ministers Heard.

ALBANY, May 23 .- R. T. Wilson, president of the Saratoga Racing Association, told the Senate Codes Committee to-day that the statements of clergymen and others that boys and girls visit racetracks and thereby get the gambling instinct made him smile.

"For years we have been told about the corrupting influences heaped upon the rising generation," said Mr. Wilson, while as a matter of fact, and everybody knows it, boys and girls never get near the racetracks.

"The talk too that horse racing is responsible for innumerable defalcations responsible for inhumeration delications of bank cashiers, robberies and suicides capacity I have been and am now doing my very best to serve the people of Mount and murders is all bosh. There's nothing to it. In most cases it costs the racetrack patron at least $5 to see a horse race and it requires him to take a half holiday to enjoy the privilege. The poor boy doesn't go to the racetrack as much as these opponents of the sport would have you think."

Mr. Wilson was one of the delegation appearing in support of the two bills of Senator Gittins of the Niagara-Orleans district, which the Codes Committee gave a hearing on.

One bill proposes to eliminate the liability of officers and directors of racing associations for gambling carried on without their knowledge by providing that they shall be responsible except where gambling is carried on in a shed or enclosure "to be used for gambling." the laying of odds to all comers and to the

We don't come here for the repeal of env of the anti-racetrack gambling laws," insisted Mr. Wilson. "We would not ask you to repeal them. We are adtisfied to eliminate the bookmaker, but we object to be ing made responsible for any and every crime which might be committed on a racetrack whether we know it or not. How about the hotels, the railroad trains, the club or your own private house? Don't you know that you can't even play bridge whist at your club or play pinochle for money in your home without being liable to arrest and imprisonment under this law?

Suppose your servants play a little poker while you are not at home. You are responsible; and the New York Central officials are liable to be locked up if any of us happen to play a game of cards for money on one of their cars from New York to Albany.

Betting is going to live as long as the world goes on. Get rid of the bookmaker You have already given him his deathblow, but you have gone beyond all sense of reason in this law making every official of a racing association responsible for any gambling which may go on whether he knows it or not."

any gambling which may go on whether he knows it or not."

Others who spoke in support of the Gittins bills were Andrew Miller, secreary and treasurer of the Saratoga Racing Association; Edward A. Tipton of the Breeders and Thoroughbred Dealers Association of New York, F. N. Bain and Fred A. Reed of the New York State Hotel Keepers Association, Charles K. Lexow of the Livery Stable Keepers and Motor Owners associations and John Sanford of Amsterdam.

Canon W. S. Chase of Brooklyn, the Rev. George W. Peck of Buffalo, the Rev. O. R. Miller and Henry Brolaski, who styles himself a "reformed bookmaker," appeared in opposition to the bills. Canon Chase admitted that private betting would never cease, but like the other opponents of the bills he believed they meant the first attack on the anti-race-track betting laws. Canon Chase said he believed the people of the State had confidence in the present Legislature, and he hoped its members would not violate it by touching the racetrack bills.

"But you would not send a man to jail for a crime committed on his premises if he knew absolutely nothing about Sanford of Amsterdam.

shough to get technical language into a bill, and that both the Gittins measures were drawn with that intent. Senator Gittins said Canon Chase and his associates had no keener desire to abolish racetrack betting than he did and would not tolerate any insinuation that there were "loker" clauses in the measures.

Ex-Bookmaker Brolaski said there were a hundred poolrooms now in full blast in New York city. The racing officials said that if all the poolrooms in the State were in operation it would be a poor argument against prohibiting horse racing entirely, because most of the poolrooms get their information from races out of the State, while successful efforts had been made in many instances in this State to shut out information to the poolrooms.

Canon Chase thought, the argument

Canon Chase thought the argument Canon Chase thought the argument about hurting the breeding of good horses was a poor one. He believed it was just as cruel to put a three-year-old horse out to race as it would be to send a three or four-year-old child to work. This made the supporters of the bills laugh, and Canon Chase said maybe it was true that he did not know rough about breeding.

T. Atherton Black, treasurer of the bills laugh, and Canon Chase said maybe it was true that be did not know rough about breeding. he did not know much about breeding horses. The Rev. Dr. Miller said the State ought first to breed its men right. At the outset of the hearing Senator Black, who is a member of the commit-tee, objected to giving the Rev. Dr. Mil-mittee, overruled Senator Black's objec-tion and said all comers would be heard. Senator Stillwell gave each side time to submit briefs.

> torate to Free Church From Attack. MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., May 23.-The Rev. James Berg, who was elected an Alderman of Mount Vernon last fall, today gave out a statement in which he says hat he has resigned the pastorate of his church in order to keep up his fight for good government. He declares that since he has been in office he has encountered a great deal of opposition from the conscienceless politicians."

The Rev. Mr. Berg has been pastor of he English Lutheran Church of Mount Vernon for nine years. He is very popular in the Fourth ward, where he won by a big majority when he ran for Alderman on the Republican ticket. In his plat-form he stated that no political boss would control him and that he would always fight.

In his statement to-day he says: Last fall at the urgent request of my friends and neighbors I very reluctantly accepted the nomination for Alderman of the Fourth ward and was elected.

I have encountered a great deal of opposition from the conscienceless politicians who are trying to drive me to cover by poisoning the minds of some of my people against me.
I have decided to keep up my fight in the interests of the people to the very last ditch, and I want to protect the congregation which I love and for the upbuilding of which we have labored so zealously and so hartacks by my political enemies, who are also he enemies of the people. For this reason I have resigned in order to leave my good people free to choose another if they so desire. At all events I shall not desert the ministry. I shall con tinue my Wakefield mission, which I not only organized but also supported as a work of love for over two years. When she reached the office she fell senseless. She was carried to the street and revived by a Flower Hospital doctor. By noon she was back in the laundry.

When the first whiff reached Thomas Maloney, second engineer, he started for the sub-cellar, but was driven back by the gas. The firemen were sent for, and Lieut. Rowe of Hook and Ladder 2 went into the cellar masked in an oxygen helmet, while his men shot a stream over his head. He groped, but couldn't find the ammonia tank, so the helmet was given to Maloney, who knew the lay of the cellar and went straight to the tank and plugged the leak with burlap.

He's a Great and Misrepresented Man. Says the Governor Senators Embarrassed by the Colonel's Remarks About Income Tax "Indorsement."

ALBANY, May 23. -William J. Bryan spent to-day in Albany. He told the Legislature, in a joint session convened especially to hear him, that the Federal income tax amendment, direct primaries and the popular election of United States Senators were the issues upon which a harmonious Democracy would make the whole nation a better place to live in To-night in the State Armory he lectured on "The Signs of the Times." At this gathering Mr. Bryan was introduced by

Gov. Dix, who said: "He is a great man in the highest and truest sense who by clearness of vision, loyalty to conscience and to ideals, strength of mind, nobility of character, can inform and influence his countrymen along lines of economic justice and civic righteousness. It was said that the Hughes law toust be repealed, as it was causing non-residents to dispose of their investments in New York State securities because of double taxation and because hundreds of thousands of dollars were being removed from the State each week for this reason.

An effort was made to have the Harte inheritance tax hill pending in the Legislature indorsed, but this was thought unwise.

Majority Leader Smith called the Republicans from Erie attacked the bill of Assemblyman Jackson redistricting the wards of Buffalo.

"Why, you don't have to go to Erie county to see how the Republicans have been wards and election district," insisted Mr. Smith. "They have been at it for years in New York One district alone, only two blocks wide and four miles long, is just one evidence of what they did. Yes, that's the district represented once by a Republican, the distinguished Senator Agnew.

When we begin to reapportion the Senate and Assembly districts of Manhattan, believe me, it will be done, and done right. It will be apportioned fairly and not for partisan purposes, as the Republicans have been doing for years."

Mr. Jackson's bill passed by a vote of 78 to 48, two of the Erie Democrats voting against it.

LEGISLATURE QUITS JUNE 15 BARNES CHIDES COHALAN MEN. Tells Republican Senators They Perhaps Abetted a Dix-Tammany Deal.

ALBANY, May 23.-William Barnes, Jr. chairman of the Republican State committee, was in the Senate lobby at noon to-day talking earnestly with Senators Assembly Votes to Abelish Barge Canal William L. Ormrod and George F. Argetsinger, the two Republicans who represent form Maxim Would Have State Monroe county in the State Senate. These two Senators are strong friends of George Aldrich, the Republican leader of the State Senate last night of Gov. Dix's nomination of Daniel F. Cohalan to be a Monroe county Republican leader.

Mr. Barnes's visit to the capital to-day, was Brackett, the minority leader of the Senate against the desertions of Senator Travis scially for voting for the confirmation of Mr. Cohalan's nomination, as he believed that there were twenty-six Democratic votes for Mr. Cohalan's nomination all the time, which is a majority of the fifty-one Senators. Mr. Barnes did suggest, however, that because of the "apparent deal between Tammany Hall and Gov. Dix over the Cohalan nomination" the Republicans for this reason should have opposed the confirmation of Mr. Cohalan. Senator Brackett, while refusing to criticise any of the Republican Senators for not following the party flag at all times, made it plain that he was not as indifferent as he appeared over the success the Democrate have in picking necessary support from the ranks of the Republican Senators whenever it appeared that the desertion of Democratic insurgent Senators rendered Republican support in the Senate to Democratic policies absolutely Wear Gloves All the Time. Two Hospitals Unable to Assure Cure.

First Application of Cuticura Soap and Ointment Allayed Itching? Psoriasis Has Disappeared.

"Allow me to say a few words in praise of the Cuticura Remedies. About three years ago, I was affected by white scales on my knees and elbows. I consulted a doctor who treated me for rineworm. I saw no change and consulted a specialist and he claimed I had psoriasis. I continued treatments under him for about six months until I saw scales breaking out all over my body save my face. My scalp was affected, and my hair began to fail. I then changed doctors to no avail. I went to two hospitals and each wanted to make a study of the case and seemed unable to cure it or assure me of a cure. I tried several patent medicines and was finally advised by a friend who has used Curicura on her children since their birth, to purchase the Cuticura Remedies. I purchased a cake of Soap, the Ointment and the Resolvent, After the first application, the itching was allayed.

"I am still using the Soap and Ointment "I am still using the Scap and Ointment and now feel that none other is good enough for my skin. The psoriasis has disappeared and I everywhere feel better. My hands were so disfigured before using the Cuticura Remedies that I had to wear floves all the time. Now my hody and hands are looking fine." (Signed) Miss Sara Burnett. 2135.

FiveMillionDollarsa Year!

An average of ONE MILLION persons each day crosses the East River-counting the tide in both directions. This vast army-the workers of a great city-brings to Manhattan the brains and hands which in large part are the active forces in New York's industrial and mercantile life.

A few of this great multitude walk across the bridges, a few are carried by ferry, but the great majority must now and in the future depend upon railroad transportation; and of this majority by far the greater number must use the lines of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, which now carry their passengers only to and from the gateway of Manhattan.

How many out of the million now pay two fares in their daily journeys nobody can actually determine. The number has been estimated at from 300,000 to 500,000. Call it only 300,000. Our transit proposal means then to them a saving of $15,000 each day-a saving to them and to the community of over $5,000,000 each year!

Five million dollars a year represents the interest at 5 per cent. on an investment of $100.-000,000. We do not ask the city to make this investment. We merely ask the city to let us have the opportunity of giving to the people what is equivalent to the return on such an in-

We do ask the city to invest $73,500,000 of its money in subways which, operated with our rapid transit lines, will make possible this enormous saving to the people and at the same time furnish transportation relief to three-quarters of the city's population. We present a financial plan and transportation routes which will certainly yield full interest and amortization on that city in-

For $73,500,000 then, expended as we suggest, the city is assured not only a full return on its investment-leaving no burden upon the taxpayers-but it may, in addition, save $5,000,000 ANNUALLY in car fares to its people!

Conditions render it impossible for the city to make such a profitable investment by contract with any other company.

Can there be any doubt in which direction the city's interest lies? It is the knowledge and appreciation of facts like these which make our proposal strong with the people and commend its adoption to students of municipal welfare and
